

Keyoh Holders Declaration

Whereas Dakelh law has for countless generations recognized each Keyoh as independent;

And whereas the lands and resources of each Keyoh are for the use and benefit of one extended family;

And whereas the title of these keyohs is passed from one generation to the next when the name of the family head, and the title, rights and responsibilities that go with it, is passed from one family head to his or her successor;

And whereas the title of these keyohs has been retained in this way for countless generations;

And whereas we, the keyoh holders,
have never surrendered our title to any other entity;

And whereas we, the Keyoh holders, have never delegated or authorized any other entity to broker or negotiate the use of our lands and resources;

We therefore declare that we continue to have sole title and ownership of our Keyohs and sole authority and jurisdiction over all the lands and resources in our Keyohs.
